Member Benefits

LEGAL ADVOCACY

The breach of protected data remains one of the top issues for independent agents and their clients. Businesses must not only work to prevent breaches, but also understand the patchwork of state laws that may apply in the event of a breach. In conjunction with the Mintz Levin law firm, the Big “I” Office of General Counsel has made available Mintz Levin’s matrix of data breach notification laws. This free member benefit provides a detailed summary of the data breach notification laws in the 47 states that have such laws. The Office of General Counsel thanks the Mintz Levin firm for providing permission to make the matrix available to Big “I” members. If you have questions about the matrix or data breach laws, contact Joseph Doherty or Scott Kneeland.

TALENT RECRUITMENT

The Big “I” has a new strategic mission to support agency efforts. The Talent Recruitment and Development page, now located within the Big “I” Virtual University (VU), provides resources for member agents to develop an approach to meaningful recruitment, training and retention of new talent. Still in its beginning stages, the new resource area features hiring, development and resources pages and also provides a link to the Big “I” Insurance Career Center, guides for creating internship programs, hiring articles and over 25 sample job descriptions.

E&O HAPPENS

E&O Happens is a website supported by Swiss Re and can be viewed at <http://tiny.cc/bxzyay>. Parts of the website are available to all Big “I” members while other portions are reserved solely for Swiss Re policyholders with Westport E&O policies. Find information about common E&O errors and problems as well as examples of case studies such as results of an attorney survey regarding Agents E&O Litigation. There is also a Prevention Tools tab containing sample procedures manuals, disclaimers and variety of customer letters. They have included sections that provide tips for agency management, producers and CSRs as well as general staff tips. This is also where agents can find coverage checklists. Under the Publications & Media tab, you will find articles from the Agents Council for Technology (ACT), E&O Angles & E&O Know from the Independent Agent magazine, E&O Claims Advisor newsletter as well as Miscellaneous Articles. This is also where members have access to webinars and podcast on a variety of E&O topics - usually less than an hour in length. Looking for some staff training topics?

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY ADMIN EFF OCTOBER 1, 2016

Over 35 years ago, Big "I" Idaho and IIABA launched a national professional liability program. Idaho staff administered - and manually rated in the early days - the E&O product for our Idaho members. A number of years ago, we contracted with PRIM (Big "I" of Montana) to administer the program which had grown beyond our local means of efficiency. We appreciate their working with our Idaho folk, however it is time to elevate this product's administration to the next level and to the capable hands of the experts at IIABA ... a move that will bring a new advantage and new resources to you as you look for the best possible insurer and service for your agency's E&O.

Big "I" Advantage will assume the role of service provider for the Errors and Omissions/professional liability program. Big "I" Advantage is the insurance licensed subsidiary of Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of America (IIABA). Mark Wolf, CPCU leads the Big "I" Professional Liability/E&O program and will coordinate services for you along with dedicated underwriting, service and risk management support. Big "I" Advantage will take over Idaho accounts as they renew and provide new business quotes for Idaho members that are not currently part of the IIABA E&O program. You will be receiving additional information from Mark and his team shortly. For new and renewal policies with effective date of October 1 or later, your Big "I" Advantage contacts are:
